The Interarts Foundation for International Cultural Cooperation (Interarts) is an international center which promotes knowledge about the cultural sector, its policies and its contribution to development at local, regional and international levels. Interarts is particularly committed to combining its research activities with the management of international cooperation projects, in order to stimulate cultural knowledge, dialogue, professional development and networking. In recent years, Interarts has provided policy advice or managed projects on behalf of UNESCO, the European Commission, the Council of Europe, the Organization of Ibero-American States (OEI), the Spanish Agency of International Cooperation for Development (AECID), the Spanish Ministry of Culture, the Government of Catalonia, and several local authorities.

FIELDS OF ACTIVITY
